

To Whosoever it May Concern

I am happy to write about CareCheck, a simple & user-friendly digital initiative designed to promote breast health awareness & self breast examination among women of all age groups.

Breast self-awareness is an integral part of women's health, and initiatives aimed at encouraging women to understand their normal breast appearance, consistency, to identify deviations from normal feel & seek timely medical advice when required, are very valueable in promoting proactive women's healthcare.

CareCheck provides an easily accessible, user-friendly & engaging platform to support this important message of self awareness & women empowerment.

I truly appreciate the sincere effort & hardwork in designing this initiative and hope that it contributes to enhancing awareness of breast health among all women.

Best wishes,
